Money Cannot Buy Tools Which Produce Spirit Behind A Worthwhile Newspaper

"Formula for a newspaper" printed in the Anderson Daily Mail in 1941, as a part of the National Newspaper Week observance. It's still a good one and likely always will be.

It will need stone and steel, printing presses, clacking type, molten metal, and Linotype machines, reaching gangling and forever upward and downward.

It will need film and chemicals for the photographic department, proofs, proof presses, thousands of pictures, tons of stereos, metal, casting boxes, and racks, thousands of new type and base and rules, 10-ton presses, rubber rollers, huge motors and automatic press controls, using matrices and calculators.

These are the things that money buys, such as woodpulp, ink, thousands and one material from the shops of the world, and many commodities awaiting to be exchanged for the cash.

There is a priceless ingredient in these newspapers, a richness that money cannot buy. It is not to be found in the places.

It is our blueprint of newspaper service. You must have a pattern, a North Star of noble and purposeful service toward which a whole organization moves as one man.

It is not enough to provide for and meet the widely diversified interests and needs of our readers, 98 percent of whom renew their subscriptions regularly. It is not enough to produce result-getting advertisements that keep the wheels of commerce rolling. The task is not complete when the news has been gathered, edited and printed and then delivered through good weather or bad, to the homes of our subscribers by means of an elaborate distribution system that embraces service-around-the-clock by the U. S. Mails and our staff. All these things are fine, but our formula requires much more. Providing for the intricate and expensive processes involved in the best mechanical production known to science will not suffice.

Presses will not run without pressmen. Reporters are necessary to obtain and present genuine news. The honest newspaper cannot betray its readers and the integrity of its news columns by printing reams of handout publicity and "puff" stories, such as are dumped upon its desks. Zealous reporters, skilled stereotypers, trained typesetters, enthusiastic salesmen . . . the modern newspaper must have a highly specialized staff of individuals ranging from a sports editor who knows sports, to an efficient janitor.

In the blueprint of newspaper service, where each piece of the pattern must fit together efficiently and on time, in the great battle against "deadlines," there is no job so humble that it does not need to be done well.

It is the composite character, and the composite effort, and the composite loyalty, of the whole organization that serves you through the local newspaper, plus the machines and the materials, that make it an institution with a deep-laid sense of responsibility to the Community, the State, the Nation, and to God.

In this newspaper will be found the precious composition of united human striving, a constant reaching out for the goal of perfection. It is a team at work, a team that reflects the ideals, hopes, ambitions and aspirations of our publisher and every man and woman engaged in this exciting pulsating business of publishing better newspapers each week.

It is something more than dollars will buy. It is a spirit, and unselfish desire to serve. It is drama. It is education. It is inspiration. It is love and the conquest of hate. It is the banishment of evil and the elevation of truth. It is the protection of our American ideas, the supremacy of law and order over mob rule, the perpetuation of the orderly processes of our courts and the maintenance of the rights of our humblest citizens on the same plane as those of his more fortunate wealthy brother.

To serve and to serve well — that is the formula.

Funeral Pending

D'HANIS — News has been received of the death of Ernst Broetz of Anchorage, Alaska. Funeral arrangements are pending as to arrival of body at Porter Loring Funeral Home, San Antonio. Interment will be at National cemetery Fort Sam Houston.

LIONS ELECT TWO

Bob Kollman was elected third vice-president and J. J. Rogers was named a director by the Hondo Lions Club Wednesday. They replace officers who have moved away after being elected earlier this year.

Pete Knowles Pulling For H. A. B.

Pete Knowles, formerly of Hondo, but now a business man in Uvalde, tells us that he sent the following telegram to Lyndon Johnson, O. C. Fisher and other representatives in Washington, D. C. concerning Hondo Air Base. Its contents were: "We earnestly request you to take action to assure the continued use of Hondo Air Base. To discontinue this operation would have an extremely adverse effect on the economy of Uvalde County as well as the surrounding area. Many local farmers and ranchers are employed at the base to supplement their income due to the drought. Your help at this time will be greatly appreciated."

The messages were signed by J. O. Palmer, Mayor of Uvalde; Jack Woodley, Uvalde County Judge; and Pete Knowles, President Uvalde Chamber of Commerce.

Knowles received telegraphic replies from Senator Yarborough and two representatives, and phone calls from others pledging support for H. A. B.

FHA Girls Beautify Park

D'HANIS — Members of the D'Hanis Chapter of Future Homemakers of America under the direction of Miss Fred Boyce, who are responsible for creating the lovely spot in the center of town known as the Railroad Park, are busy with autumn work on their project.

They are preparing beds for more shrubs and flowers to be added to the roses and crepe myrtles which bloomed all summer and attracted much favorable comment from residents and tourists alike.

According to Miss Boyce, the girls have been assisted by the D'Hanis Lions Club, who promoted the project with Eric Rothe as their chairman. She has had the full cooperation also of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and its agent, M. L. Riley, and the assistance of FHA mother sponsors, Mrs. Herman Fohn and Mrs. Ursie Turner.

Wayne Cheney's FFA members have aided in the work, with Walter John Burrell in charge of mowing the lawn, while several boys did some of the watering during the summer.

Hondo To Have New Key Rate: Result of Coordinated Effort

Tuesday, October 8 Is Scout Fund Drive

Approximately 60 workers turned out for a Boy Scout financial drive meeting Monday Night, Sept. 30, at the fire station. Cards were distributed and plans were worked out for a campaign here.

A "dawn to dusk" campaign is being organized in Hondo which will give every person the opportunity to share in the financial program of the Boy Scouts of America. A kick-off breakfast on Oct. 8 at 7 a.m. in Lions Club Hall will touch off the drive and the annual campaign will be held that day.

All Communities served by the Alamo Council, Boy Scouts of America, are conducting finance drives on this one day — October 8th, excepting in towns which conduct Community Chest Campaigns where the Scout movement is included.

Men, Methods and Money, are the three necessary "M's" in extending the program to boys. Once a year money is sought to continue this worthwhile activity in the training of the youth. Boys may be Cub Scouts from 8 through 10 years; Boy Scouts from 11 through 13 years and Explorers from 14 through 16 years of age.

The aim and purpose of Boy Scout training, for all boys, is citizenship training and character building. Boys are taught to be physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

Bandera Road Topping Contract Let

A contract for the construction of base and two course surface treatment on Farm-to-Market Road 689 in Medina County was awarded in Austin this week, F. M. Davis, District Highway Engineer at San Antonio has announced. The firm of Border Construction Company, Laredo, submitted the low bid of $120,114.46 on the project which runs from 10.6 miles south of Bandera County line, south to U. S. 90, a distance of 9 miles.

Resident Engineer C. E. Hackbeil of Hondo will be in charge of the project for the Highway Department, and it is estimated that the work will take 75 days to complete.

Throat Slashing Expensive

It cost Santos Cortinez, 30, more than $10 per inch to do some throat slashing Friday night.

The victim, Rodolfo Gonzales, had taken a friend, Nicolas Trevino, by Trevino's house. When Gonzales came out, Cortinez slashed him from the hairline to the throat.

Gonzales was treated at Medina Hospital but was released after 20 stitches had been made. Cortinez would give no reason for his action nor would he state whether he used a knife or razor. Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder stated, "He was found guilty, was fined $200 and costs and release from custody."

JUVENILES CAUGHT

In other activity this week, the Sheriff reported that some 13 and 14 year old boys in Devine had been taken into custody for stealing articles from cars. Among things stolen were purses and some change and cuff links were taken from the car of John Harlan DuBose. The youngsters were caught after investigations were made. They were released to their parents and are awaiting a hearing in Juvenile court.

Something New: College Course Taught On TV

College graduates, and especially those interested in teaching, have the opportunity to enroll for a new course in teacher education to be presented weekly by 17 Texas television stations.

Any graduate of an accredited college or university may apply for enrollment. Teaching permits valid during the 1957-58 school year and renewable for three additional years will be issued by the Certification Division of the Texas Education Agency to persons employed as teachers on the basis of their enrollment in the "Adventures in Education" television series.

The course is offered by the Texas Education Agency in cooperation with more than 40 Texas colleges and universities. "The Texas Project in Teacher Recruitment and Education by Television" is designed to help Texas school superintendents find teachers by encouraging capable college graduates to enter the teaching profession," explains J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education. "There also are indications that the project is serving as the basis for in-service education. Many fully certified teachers, by becoming enrolled, can add this educational television experience to their professional qualifications."

The employment of Dr. Arthur H. Mochlman, a nationally known professor with broad teaching experience, means that "Adventures in Education" will be comparable to the best teacher education instruction offered by colleges and

The week beginning Oct. 6th is Fire Prevention Week all over the nation. A review of local fire activities shows that since March there have been three fires which have caused property damage and that Hondo will soon have a new lower key fire insurance rate.

On March 15, the Henry Weyland home burned with an estimated loss of $40,000. The fire is thought to have started from a fire place. On Aug. 15, the W. G. Muennink barn, which contained stored furniture, burned. Barn loss was estimated at $2400 and the contents at $5400.

The most recent fire was on Aug. 25 when the Lonnie Knowles house was a partial loss. The house and contents, valued at about $3000, was about a 50 percent loss according to the fire marshall's report, or approximately $1500.

Orby Swartzell, city marshall, has been mailing in monthly reports to the State Board of Insurance since March.

Recently, Homer Wilson, fire chief, received a letter from George C. Hawley, Chief Engineer, for the board stating that an additional lowering of the fire rate in Hondo is forthcoming due to a "coordinated civic effort."

His letter reads in part: "We received the map showing the changes in the mains and fire hydrants in your mercantile district and we are republishing a new key rate for your city taking these facts into account. Also at the same time, we are going to remove the penalty in your key rate for lack of proper drill reports since you have now reported regularly over a period of several months. You may cease sending them monthly and send them in on a quarterly basis from September on."

"With the issuance of the key rate, we are going to allow your city credit for the Firemen's Training School which could not be done until the drill reports penalty was removed from your key rate."

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

BY JERRY JUNE BERGER

AMOS HARLLEE is making like a bachelor this week while MRS. HARLLEE attends a veterans training course in Dallas. Not only that, she'll get back to Hondo and have time to wash and iron clothes for another trip up to Dallas.

The second trip will be for an Eastern Star meeting.

Just back from a lengthy trip are MR. and MRS. BEN GRAFF who visited their son and family, BEN JR., his wife, and their daughter, VICKI LYNN, in Minneapolis, Minn.

BEN JR. is employed as a butcher there. They like the area very much and BEN SR. says he doubts that they will ever move back. One thing he did tell us, which we especially enjoyed hearing, was that the young man can hardly wait until Tuesday each week because that is the day his Anvil Herald arrives. Pop paid up for another year for him too.

From Minnesota, the traveling GRAFFS went to Cleveland, Ohio for a visit with MR. and Mrs. EDGAR SPROTT, formerly of this area. Then they went to Elwood City, Pa. for a visit with their son-in-law's parents before returning to Hondo last Friday.

PA
Another Hondoan a long way from home is BARBARA (MRS. RICHARD) BUCCI, who is attending college at Fresno, Calif. The former BARBARA BATOT, she writes that her husband is soon to be discharged from the Air Force, that they are quite happy about the whole thing, and that they both plan to continue their college work. He plans to study architecture. Barbara is majoring in English.

PA
I'm sure you have admired that beautiful United States Automobile Association in San Antonio at the corner of Hilderbrand and Broadway right across from Incarnate Word College. SUSIE MODESETT is employed there and she says the working conditions are absolutely ideal, according to her mother, MRS. GEORGE RETHERFORD. Nevertheless, she is giving this up to become a bride before too long.

PA
At PTA meeting last Tuesday night, PRINCIPAL M. L. MCDOWELL made the statement that he and his wife were delighted to be back in Hondo. Later, he emphasized the statement even more.

He said he was a preacher's son and grew up without having lived in any one town for more than around five or six years. His other stay in Hondo lasted 15 years, so he figures that he and MRS. MCDOWELL are back home again now.

They are living in a WINDROW apartment at present, which he says is about enough house to keep with both of them teaching and with both of their daughters away at school.

PA
When we were in Hollywood touring Warner Brothers Studio last June, we spent about half an hour watching the filming of a new TV show to be called "Sugarfoot". Tuesday night while watching the actual show on TV, we saw the same scenes that were being filmed the day of our visit. It is no wonder those shows cost a lot to make. At least 30 men were working around the set and they did it in a scene (the one showing the hero in bed, to those of you who watched Tuesday) the whole time we were there. On the screen it lasted only about 10 seconds.

Writer's Descendants Visit In Hondo

Mrs. Addie Sowell Rogers of 301 Hampshire Street, San Antonio, and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Lee Howard of 309 Dunning Ave., were guests in the Fletcher Davis home for a brief visit last Sunday afternoon. The ladies are daughter and grand-daughter respectively of the late noted writer of Texas pioneer history, A. J. Sowell.

An ex-Texas Ranger himself, Mr. Sowell was well supplied with a knowledge of the facts pertaining to the settling of Southwest Texas, having acquired much of it through personal contacts with many of the pioneers themselves. He wrote several books pertaining to this area and told such a complete and lucid story on each topic covered that his writings made easy and entertaining reading that was enjoyed by all who read after him. This was especially true of his most ambitious production, "Texas Indian Fighters". His books are all out of print now and this particular book is now a collector's item for which fab-prices are offered when they can be found at all. Mrs. Rogers still has the original manuscript and a reprint edition would no doubt be welcomed by many.

An outdoorsman, as you would expect, is more sensitive to the weather than other folks. And that doesn't merely mean that he is interested in whether it's cold or hot, wet or dry.

He watches the fishing calendar, the solar tables, the barometer, and the weather predictions. He is aware of water temperatures at various depths, and he looks for the signs of nature.

All this goes for the hunter as well as the fisherman. As the dove hunter contemplated the season opening in the South Zone, Oct. 1, for example, he recalled heavy rains in the area late in September, and he thought about cooler weather.

His conclusions were that dove hunting around tanks would not likely be productive because there is water everywhere for the birds. And he figures that doves would be migrating southward in search of warmth.

Weather Signs

Old timers were keen about the weather. Far more so than moderns who live in conditioned air and don't depend directly on agriculture for their livelihood.

The old folks didn't depend on gadgets to know whether the fish were biting. They understood that there is a rhythm in nature, and they watched for signs that they knew were reliable.

If the old cow rested quietly under a shady tree, if the dog slept by the front steps, if there were no birds singing or flying — if all nature seemed at a standstill — that was no time to go fishing.

But when the cow got up and started grazing, the dog stretched himself and dug up a bone, and the birds suddenly appeared in the sky — that was fishing time. The system still works. One friend of mine keeps a bowl of goldfish and can tell by their action — or inaction — whether to head for the creek or not.

Solar Tables

Another fellow tells me that by watching the solar tables he can tell when the workers in his office are going to be the most alert, active, and industrious. These times coincide with the best fishing hours as indicated by the tables.

It has long been known that the weather affects the way we feel. Benjamin Franklin advised that we "do business with men when the wind is out of the northwest." That's because a northwest wind is a sign of fine weather.

Thus it's not surprising that anglers say "fish bite the best when the wind's from the west."

Barometer Readings

Many salesmen refuse to call on customers when the barometer is low. They know that the prospect is likely to be feeling depressed at such a time. Likewise, old fishermen know that the fishing is best when the barometer is high or rising.

September rains were good for the angling situation. They washed food from surrounding land into lakes and streams for the fish to eat.

Some big fat bass are going to be caught in Texas during the next two months!

Incidentally, the better the land along the shore line, the more good washed into the water by rains. No lake surrounded by poor land can be rich in fish. Consequently, your earnest angler is a booster of soil conservation.

System for Bass

Getting back to black bass fishing for a minute... there's a fellow around here who catches them regularly from the Colorado River lakes. He gave me his system the other day, and I'll pass it on for you to try:

He gets in a boat at daybreak and moves slowly along, casting a surface lure to the edge of the weed beds, and into pockets among the weeds. He gives the lure plenty of time, twitching it ever so slightly at long intervals. Recently he has scored one 54 and two 4 pounders. His favorite bait is a wounded minnow type with a spinner front and back. He ties on a red and white bucktail.

It's Exciting

Many's the black bass that has been caught by similar means — and many more will be. To most fishermen, there's nothing like a big black exploding out of the water, hitting the bait as if he were angry with it.

And that is his state of mind, sometimes. He stakes out an area and defies anything to trespass on it. Particularly is this true during the spawning season when he is guarding his nest. (That's right. It's the male black bass that makes the home.)

At other times the bass is just plain hungry — but you can't tell the difference by his charge. He always hits surface lures with the same ferocity. Usually he leaps two or three times before you get him to the boat, trying to throw the lure. And while under water he tugs hard and runs fast.

It's an old story to bass fishermen. But they never tire of it.

Try Under Trees

A bass often will make his home under trees along the bank. He likes the shade and the food that occasionally comes dropping down from above. Woe to the baby bird that drops out of the nest, or the mouse that tumbles into the water, or the grasshopper that makes a careless jump — if the bass is there.

An old trick is to cast a lure over a low-hanging tree branch, let it dangle down and splash lightly on the water, then let it rest on top, and after waiting awhile, splash it again.

Once I had a bass strike three times on a lure worked that way. Missed it every time. Or maybe he was just bumping it with his snout for pure cussedness.

Finally I gave up and started to retrieve the lure. My partner cast over by the tree and immediately caught the bass, a three-pounder.

Some days you ought to give up, maybe, but you never do.

AS AMERICAN AS LOG-ROLLINGS

Cooperation is as old as mankind. It's as American as the old-fashioned log-rolling when all the neighbors pitched in to help a young fellow build a log cabin for his bride. Or when the whole community got together to build a little church or school. Cooperatives are as old as America, and as American as ham and eggs.

Rural electric cooperatives were set up for exactly the same reasons that folks used to hold log-rolling. They were organized to bring electric power to rural farms, homes, schools and businesses. Nobody made a profit out of the log-rolling. Nobody makes a profit out of a cooperative. But both the log-rolling and the cooperatives help folks SAVE a lot of money or get something they couldn't get at all otherwise.

Our rural electric cooperative is owned by the very consumers it serves. It is operated on a non-profit basis to provide these rural families, schools and businesses with all the electricity they want—at the lowest possible cost. Today, working shoulder to shoulder with nearly 1000 other rural electric cooperatives throughout the nation, we serve a total of over 14 million rural people.

We got together on this electric log-rolling because there was no other way to get the job done. And we are proud to say we have been successful.

THOUGHT FOR NEWSPAPER WEEK

This Is Newspaper Week

This is National Newspaper Week, and if we are to boast a little just now perhaps we may be indulged. For the newspaper, which regularly delivers itself to bring news and the interpretation of news to your homes, has a message of its own. We believe that message worthy of some attention.

The American newspaper occupies a unique place in the world. Its freedom to print is guaranteed by the Constitution. It has been considered from the beginnings of the Republic and from even before that—an essential instrument in the lives of the American people.

You may, and undoubtedly do, on occasion become discouraged with your newspaper or even become angry with it. Yet it is an indispensable item of intelligent living, and in more cases than is generally realized it is the most constructive and most educational item in a family's existence.

Where newspapers are free from government restriction, as they are in the United States, you are free to select the reading matter of your choice. You are privileged to have a voice of protest. You are favored by having news of importance about you, personally, collected, verified and presented in readable and understandable form delivered to your door every day.

The newspapers of America set aside this week, therefore, to call attention to the services they perform. But more than that they set it aside to remind themselves and their readers of the obligation they owe the American public.

It is their constant hope that the reading public will continue to trust the integrity of their services. It is their constant effort to maintain the standards which have made this nation, more than all others, a nation of newspaper readings.

National Newspaper Week, therefore, is not an occasion for self-praise by newspapers nearly so much as it is an occasion for self-appraisal. It is a time for newspapers over the land to rededicate themselves to the trust placed in them by the vast intelligent, progressive and enlightened American public.

This Is Fire Prevention Week

This year Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12, will mark another milestone of organized fire prevention activities in this country.

The anniversary will emphasize the value of fire prevention work in the form of concentrated annual campaigns, town inspections, engineering surveys of the fire protection facilities of cities, extensive research by insurance companies, and the many varied contributions by public and private agencies outside the fire insurance business.

At the same time fire losses this year may exceed a billion dollars for the first time in history. So far they are averaging about $90 million a month. This naturally poses a question: Do the fire prevention activities of the fire insurance business and the public really help prevent fires?

By 1952, when the latest figures were available, the burnable national assets had increased about twelve times over the 1905 figures, and fire losses had increased only five times.

Undoubtedly other factors besides fire prevention work have affected the widening gap between the values of structures and goods at risk and the actual fire losses in the last half century. But the gap is large enough, and has coincided near enough with increasing fire prevention activities, to support the assumption that safety work has been effective.

Our nation has made a good start in fire prevention and real progress is being made. Let us not rest on our laurels but continue our efforts to do better.

The Fire Prevention Picture Then and Now

	1922	1957
Property Loss	About $500 million	May pass the $1 billion mark
Loss of Life	Approximately 15,000	Approximately 10,600
Home Fires	Average of 359 per day	Over 800 per day
Major Cause of Fires	Carelessness with Matches-Smoking	Carelessness with Matches-Smoking
Misuse of electricity, next major originating cause of fire today, was in fifth place in 1922. Use of electricity has increased greatly in 35 years.

"After arriving in Brownsville, Mr. Crist exerted his influence over me and in compliance with his earnest solicitations I enlisted in the United States army, in December, 1863, as a private in Captain Braubach's company of scouts. The company was an independent organization, raised for service on the Rio Grande, and it was composed of white Americans exclusively. I was then in my seventeenth year and when the officers were elected I was made second corporal. The First Texas Cavalry was then in camp at Brownsville, under the command of Colonel Davis, who was afterwards governor of Texas, and my company was embodied with it and was known as Company H. During the six months that the command remained in that region it was constantly engaged in scouting along the Texas border.

"On one occasion a detachment of the regiment, consisting of twenty men, was sent to Padre Island with orders to collect a lot of horses under the protection of a vessel that was to sail a mile or so from shore and warn us of the enemy's presence should any appear. After proceeding some distance we came in sight of a herd of cattle and soon headed them toward our lines. We did not make much progress before the enemy appeared with a large force that compelled us to retreat and the horses were recaptured. The vessel off shore promptly came to our rescue and shelled our opponents, but they could not be prevented from driving off the cattle to a place of safety.

"A large Federal force, represented by all branches of the service was then concentrated in the vicinity of Brownsville, and the commodious buildings at Ft. Brown, on the banks of the Rio Grande, opposite Matamoros, were occupied by them. An invasion of Texas was in contemplation that was to be conducted on a scale by two armies, one on Red River and the other on the Rio Grande, both acting in concert, but the battles of Mansfield and Pleasant Hill changed these plans.

and Texas was spared from witnessing the havoc incident to the ravages of war.

"After Bank's army was defeated on Red River and driven back to Morganza, on the Mississippi River, the western division, that was to have participated in the invasion of Texas from the west, was ordered to rendezvous at that point in Louisiana. Only five companies of the First Texas Cavalry were included in the order, and Companies A, B and C remained in Brownsville under Captain Zoeller until the close of the war, when they were reunited with the regiment.

"When we arrived at Morganza the encampment of General Bank's army of 80,000 men extended along the river a distance of about ten miles and the line of outposts was, necessarily, about twenty miles long. A reorganization of the army was in progress and it was understood that preparations were being made for another advance into Texas. During that period the picket line was constantly harassed by the enemy's scouts and they sustained many many losses, although they had a strong support and were always on the alert. Everyday a dozen or more of the poor fellows were either killed, wounded or captured, and it seemed as if it was impossible to restrain the Rebels, who seemed to be always ready to attack our front. These fatalities do not figure in history, but it is an actual fact that Confederate caused more losses on the Union army in that encampment than was sustained by the American forces in the recent Spanish war.

"The Confederates occupied a fortification on Bayou Atchafalaya, about twenty-five miles distant and west of our position, which gave them a strong support. When the attacks became insufferable it was determined to drive them from their location, and, if possible, force them to abandon the country east of that stream. For that purpose a force numbering about three thousand infantry with four or five batteries and one thousand cavalry, was sent against them with orders to treat all Confederate scouts as guerrillas and show no mercy to those who should fall in their hands.

"The excuse for vigorous action and the adoption of harsh penalties was justified by the report that the Confederates had hung several Federal soldiers, but the reason for doing so was unknown and if it was a fact the circumstances did not warrant such extremely harsh measures, though many acts are perpetrated in time of war which are unjustifiable. Possibly they were executed as spies or deserters, but it is more probable that they were offenders who were deprecating on the citizens, and hanging was too good for them.

"A detachment of sixty men from the First Texas Cavalry was placed under the command of Lieutenant Lilly of Company A, and eight of them were selected from Company H. My disappointment because I was not one of them led me to offer my services as a volunteer and they were accepted. I was anxious to go because we all thought that it was the first movement towards the invasion of Texas and my confidence led me to believe that we would march direct to San Antonio. Fearing that there would be no more fighting, I was anxious to participate in one engagement so that I could tell my friends in Texas that I took part in a battle. When I was chosen in another man's place I was delighted and I considered it a very great favor.

PUBLIC NOTICES GREW AS COUNTIES GREW

Reader's Digest, some years ago, reprinted this announcement from a country newspaper:

Anyone found near my chicken house at night will be found there next morning.

That was a public notice. Since the beginning of time, men have found it necessary to communicate to others, information of importance to all.

When America was young, life was simple. People, of necessity, lived close together. When one man had a message for several others, he usually knew where to find them. If the message must cover a wider area, the town crier was employed to inform one and all. The system was adequate.

But then America began to grow. People moved out over a wider and wider area. The spreading of vital information came more difficult. For a time the accepted means was the posting of notices in public places. If the persons concerned happened to pass the proper place, and the notice was still hanging, and they happened to read it, objective was accomplished.

But America grew more — and more — beyond its founders' wildest dreams. Problems having to do with land ownership, debts, estates, purchases, elections, improvements, began to arise, as America became big business.

Then was born the "Public Notice." As they always have, when needs regarding the public welfare have arisen, the newspapers of the country took on an added chore.

Today's newspaper is the chief medium for Public Notices of all kinds. Those notices are there for your information and protection and your guidance. They contain news — of your friends and neighbors, of public affairs that affect you as an individual and as a member of your community. They have grown out of a necessity for one man to inform others of his intentions. They are printed in the newspaper so that all men may KNOW and be able to live together in a well-ordered society.

Some such notices are now required by law. Others are published simply because one person wants his fellow citizens to know where he stands. In any case, they are there for your information — and they must be read by YOU in order to serve their purpose.

Seco Philosopher Wants
More People To Get Up On The International Language Level

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher apparently doesn't understand the difference between international and local language, as letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I never was so flabbergasted in my life. I was standing there in my fence looking over into my neighbor's pasture, understand, I wasn't coveting it, I've got sense enough to know more land means more work, although if put to it I believe I could work as little on your farms as one, when my neighbor walked up and handed me a newspaper and said, "Here, I understand you like to read these things."

Sure, I admit it, I like to read newspapers, and if a lot of other people didn't too, where would I be, especially you, Mr. Berger?

So I thanked him and took the paper and went back home and read it.

The main thing that caught my attention was an article on guided missiles. As I understand it, a guided missile is something you put into space, duck, and wonder where it's going. It's sort of something a man to Congress — you can aim him in the right direction, but you never know where he'll land and it's some- times hard to track him even when he's still in flight — but what really interested me was the governments of the world — the accomplishments of their missiles.

For example, Russia says she has flown a guided missile "a great distance." The U. S. comes right back and says we've flown "many miles through space." England says hers has gone "an unmeasured distance through her majesty's atmosphere."

Now this is a system of language I admire, and what I want to know is why can't you and me have access to the same arrange- ment?

For instance, say I come in out dark after a day I claimed

Price Situation Reviewed By Ag Economist

Most phases of agriculture seem to be holding their own as far as prices are concerned and probably will continue to do so — with the usual seasonal declines — for the remainder of 1957.

Marketings of meat animals and grass cattle will be a little low the 1956 rate until later on according to John McHaney, A&M extension economist. Hog slaughter will likely continue below the 1956 rate until later on in the year. No price drop is in sight, except for the usual seasonal declines, and meat animal prices should maintain a modest margin over last year. Steady to stronger prices are in prospect for fed cattle during the next few months, says the economist.

Prices of lower grades of cattle will decline seasonally. However, says the economist, they will be supported by a strong demand for feed lot replacements and prices should remain at a higher level than last year.

Hog prices will probably continue above a year earlier during the rest of the summer and early fall. However, there is a slight possibility that prices at the end of the year may be a little below the prices of late last year.

Lamb prices this fall may average as high or possibly a little higher than last year, points out McHaney. Egg prices should also begin to increase. By late summer, prices are likely to be above a year earlier.

The national average support price for 1957 is 60 cents per bushel for oats, 94 cents per bushel for barley and $1.83 per 100 pounds for sorghum grain.

If feed crop prospects continue favorable, feed grain prices will probably average somewhat lower the rest of 1957 than for the same period in 1956, adds McHaney.

Soil Test Aids Soil Building

Crops trying to grow on mineral deficient soils are like people on a strict diet — they get hungry.

Now, it may be practical for an overweight person to go on a diet to reduce, but no one wants to reduce his crop production. Yet, that is exactly what happens to crops that are grown on soil that is lacking in minerals, warns W. F. Bennett, extension agricultural chemist.

But the crops are not the only things that suffer from this condition, says the chemist. These sick crops cause mineral hunger in livestock. This produces poor livestock, giving poor gains and poor stock products — it even tends to promote livestock disease.

Mineral hungry crops and livestock produce food that may cause a deficiency in our own body, says Bennett.

The average man has about three pounds of calcium (limestone) in his body. Children need lime for strong bones and good teeth. These strength-providing minerals are important to the human body.

So, the chemist advises fertilizing for more and better crops that will produce more and better livestock. Liming, in some areas, is especially needed now to offset the leaching that resulted from the hard rains of April and May. A soil test should be made to determine the exact needs.

Soil that is well supplied with minerals — especially calcium and phosphorus — is essential for maximum productivity of top quality crops, concludes Bennett.

On Honor Roll

The Sept. 12 issue of Our Lady of the Lake paper contained the honor roll list for the spring semester. Rosalie Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Stein of Cliff, headed the list with an average of 2.92 out of a possible grade point of 3.00. 35 other students were also listed. Rosalie completed a one year course in Business Administration there in July.

State Capitol NEWS

AUSTIN

How much will Texas' drought-shocked farm economy be able to come back, thanks to 1957 rains?

U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates says Texas' 1957 cash income, from all farm and ranch products, may be as much as $200,000,000 higher than last year.

Actual statistics now in are not so rosy. Reports from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research show cash income, as of July, down 13 per cent from July of last year. Farm income for July is 70 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

"Farm income," says a BBR analyst, "is still the most depressed sector of the Texas economy, although rising prices and a better outlook for crops give some grounds for optimism."

Some attribute the poor cash showing in reports thus far to lateness of crops in areas where continued spring rains delayed planting.

Whatever final statistics show, most farmers and farm observers seem to regard 1957 as the beginning of better thing. It rained. And though the rains may have washed out cotton, rotted melons and mildewed grain, it "put a season in the ground."

LITTLE ROCK REPERCUSSIONS

News from Little Rock, Ark., brought expressions of concern and disapproval from the Texas Capitol.

Gov. Price Daniel, on hearing the President had sent in federal troops to enforce school integration, fired off a telegram to the White House. Such action, said Daniel, was "reminiscent of the tactics of Reconstruction Days."

"Does this mean you will occupy with troops every nonintegrated school in the South?" the Governor asked. "If so, your action will destroy the public school systems and good will among the races which most of us in the South have labored so hard to preserve."

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, who was in the State Capitol at time, for a Democratic women's gathering, said he was "concerned and disturbed."

"I think there should be no troops from either side patrolling our school campuses," said Johnson.

NEW LAWS SUGGESTED
Spectators of the ICT investigations are no longer interested in what BenJack Cage did or didn't do. Or in what he says or doesn't say. They are more interested in the effect the ICT matter will have on future insurance regulations.

Cage answered a few general questions for the Senate investigating committee. But he refused to answer 90 others on grounds of possible self incrimination. However, officials of the State Insurance Department spoke to the committee specifically and without hesitation. Commissioner William A. Harrison suggested need for possible legislation in four areas:

1. Board authority to determine the competence of management and to pass on management contracts. (Jack Cage Co. had a management contract with ICT.)
2. More board control over financial record keeping by companies.
3. Change in the minimum capital requirements for organizing a company (presumably to require more capital).
4. Changes in insurance investment restrictions.

FLU FUROR FADES

After the shock of the first flare-up, most Texans seemed resigned to living with the Asian flu threat for awhile.

Although cases tripled (to 9,151) in a week, health officials in some areas reported a decline. Some said they felt they were "over the hump."

SHOEMAKE'S POLICY DROPPED

An Austin district judge has ordered the state receiver to stop paying premiums on A. B. Shoemaker's giant insurance policy. Value of the gradually diminishing policy was down to $719,000.

At one time the policy would have been worth $1,000,000 on Shoemaker's death. Money would have been added to the assets of the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co.

Shoemaker attempted to kill himself after his company collapsed. His death seemed imminent and the $20,000-a-year premiums were kept paid. Now, doctors say Shoemaker may live another 15 years.

TUG O' WATER

Water contests are back in the news.

City of San Antonio has been trying for more than three years to get permission to take 100,000 acre feet of water annually from Canyon Dam to be built near New Braunfels.

Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority opposed the request, and last July the State Water Board turned down San Antonio's application.

San Antonio has now filed suit in an Austin court to get the board's decision nullified.

Fort Worth had better luck with the Water Board. It gained permission to take 385,000 acre feet a year from tributaries of the Trinity. Enough, presumably to care for the city's needs until the year 2000.

But there were protests, both from within and without Fort Worth. Board said permit is a new type which will protect the supply of downstream users.

SCHOOL PANEL

House Speaker Waggoner Carr added three more to the committee which is to study means for handling Texas' growing school population. They are Mrs. Will Miller of Corsicana, Nat Williams of Lubbock and Stone Wells of Houston.

Appointment of six persons by Governor Daniel will complete the 24-member committee.

SCHOOL BUS LAW

There still are people who don't observe Texas school bus law, say state officials. Seven were killed in school bus collisions last year. Wide publicity on the provisions of the law are urged by Education, Highway and Safety Department officials. Basically, the laws say:

1. A driver meeting or overtaking a school bus that has stopped to load or discharge passengers must stop immediately. He may then proceed cautiously at not more than 10 miles per hour.
2. Law does not apply in city limits or on a divided highway where the bus is on a different roadway from the other vehicle.

H. D. NEWS

The Rio Medina HD Club met at the home of Mrs. Alice Rihn September 19, with Mrs. Estella Strayhorn, regular members and one visitor.

Mrs. W. C. Whitehead gave a report on the State Meeting held at Houston. Mrs. Strayhorn's demonstration was "A Main Dish" meat and vegetables cooked in an electric fryer and cooker pan. The hostess served it, salad, garlic bread and apple pie a la mode.

Prizes were given lucky ones who drew high cards. Next meeting is to be Oct. 3rd with Mrs. W. C. Whitehead.

Mesquite Wood Economical Feed

Mesquite wood ground into a meal is a source of bulk in rations for cattle when other roughages are scarce and relatively high in price.

Yearling steers fed a ration containing 7.2 pounds of ground mesquite wood gained 2.2 pounds per head daily in feeding tests at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur, said P. T. Marion, station superintendent. Similar steers fed cottonseed hulls instead of mesquite meal gained 2.29 pounds daily. The feeding period was 140 days.

In a more recent test lasting 112 days yearling steers fed a ration containing 12.23 pounds of ground mesquite wood per head daily gained an average 2.54 pounds daily, compared with 2.71 pounds gained daily by steers fed a silage ration, he added.

The steers fed the mesquite meal made a higher net profit on the basis of $10 per ton for ground mesquite and $18 per ton for cottonseed hulls than those fed the cottonseed hull ration.

A chemical analysis shows that mesquite meal has a higher protein, fiber and calcium content than cottonseed hulls, but a slightly lower fat and carbohydrate content. Carotene (Vitamin A) also is in the mesquite meal, but this essential element is not present or is very low in quantity in many dry roughages.

Mesquite to be used should be green stems and branches 1 to 3 inches in diameter, and should be allowed to cure for 5 to 7 days before grinding. Curing will make grinding easier and will lower the molding after grinding.

The wood apparently may be harvested at any time of the year, but it usually has the highest nutritive value in the spring before leaf development begins.

Over Proposal To Find Out How Many Farmers Really Necessary

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably is unduly alarmed about the matter he's discussing this week, but if it wasn't that it'd be something else.

Dear editor: I've always felt that while no one in Washington can solve the farm problem, it didn't hurt to try them, it's nice to have them talking about it. It's comfortable to know you're not alone, but now I've changed my mind. You can run this thing into the ground.

For instance, was reading in newspaper last night which nobody had used to stuff, and a set of teacups my wife and I had bought from some of her kinkoiks — only three of em were cracked, probably before we were packed anyway — were a committee in Washington planning on making a survey to determine how many farmers this country needs. They've got the idea there may be entire too many of us and if so maybe too many ought to quit and go to town and try something.

In the future, I will appreciate someone letting the farm problem slide awhile. Get your mind off farmers and give some thought to juvenile delinquents, guided missiles, the Russians, or something else.

I can see some expert, totaling the number of acres this country has, the amount of food it produces, and the number of farmers needed to produce it, and coming with the announcement we're going to have a farmer allotment.

I can see the official-looking thing turning up in the mailbox. Based on your five-year record of production, it has been decided you are unnecessary and your name has been removed from the list of farmers in this state. Severe penalties for violating this order will be enforced.

You can see what this would do to me, and I think if I tried right hard I could name a few others in this vicinity.

Furthermore, if they found out this country has more farmers than it needs, what's to keep them from finding out it's got more filling stations than it needs? Or more grocery stores? Or more automobile dealers? Or more Congressmen? Or more newspapers? Or more women?

It may be true that 20 per cent of the farmers could quit and move to town and the country would still be well-fed and well-clothed and Sec. Benson would still have a surplus to worry about, but I have a notion you could shut down 20 per cent of the filling stations and nobody'd have to go without gas, or even wait in line. Yet they're still putting em up in cities, every time they find a vacant corner lot. And it's possible, with fifth less Congressmen, we still might get just as many laws turned out.

Let's drop this whole thing.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

CASTROVILLE — That Mrs. Lewis C. Turner of San Antonio will lecture on how to make a flower arrangement using home-grown flowers at the next meeting of the Castro Garden Club on Tuesday, October 8. The lecture will begin promptly at 3:30. The previously announced White Elephant Sale has been postponed until the November meeting.

That many people are allergic to rag weed and that the streets of Castroville are lined with it in some sections of town. But Mr. Emil Halbadier, who has more than 3 score and 10 years to his credit manages to keep all weeds out of his yard and also along the street in front of his property. He is also starting a fall garden. We might try to imitate him.

Speaking of gardens . . . for the first time in years and years the Castroville Elementary School has a garden. The project was started at the close of school last year and is progressing. It is an excellent example of civic pride. Let's hope it's catching. For several years the St. Louis School and Church grounds have set an example to follow.

And another first . . . The Castroville High School Band will soon appear in uniform. The Band Boosters Club has taken over the project. Thirty-two uniforms will be ordered.

Dove Season Moving South

South Texas hunters will get their chances at mourning doves beginning Tuesday, Oct. 1. The season continues through Nov. 17 except in the whitewing area where the season will end Oct. 14. The North Texas season, which includes Medina County, continues until Oct. 17, inclusive.

"Rains of the past week caused a migration of the doves, but it looks like they'll still be plentiful in the South Texas area," says the Director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

"South Texas doves also are in good condition. Most of them have matured and the pin feathers are gone."

The Director also warned against shooting or having in possession more than the limit of ten birds. All shotguns should be plugged to hold only three shells.

Rio Medina Cadet Wins Military Distinction

Cadet Cal Hutzler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hutzler, Rio Medina, Texas, has been designated as Distinguished Military Student and appointed Cadet Captain to command "C" Company of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps, Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville, Texas.

Upon completion of his Bachelor of Science degree, Cadet Hutzler will be designated a Distinguished Military Graduate and will have the opportunity of applying for a commission in the Regular Army. However, his first love is athletics and his plans at the present time are to spend two years on active duty with the Army and then enter the athletic coaching field. He is a member of the "T" Association and is now playing his third year of varsity football for Texas A&I.

Distinguished Military Students are selected on the basis of demonstrated, outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character, and definite aptitude for the military service. Each cadet selected must be in the upper half of his class academically and in the upper 10 per cent of his military classes. Careful observation was made of these qualities not only on the college campus for three years but also during the intensive six weeks training at the RTC Summer Camp at Fort Gordon, Georgia, where during the Camp of 1957, approximately 700 cadets from 27 institutions from all parts of the United States were in keen competition.

Of the 27 colleges represented at the Summer Camp of 1957, Texas College of Arts and Industries was rated as third.

Coyotes Edge Owls

By Georg Gaston

A highly touted Uvalde "Eleven", blending a strong defense with a smoothly operated offense, managed to keep their perfect record of the yet young season in tact by downing the Hondo Owls 19-0; but only after a scrappy Owl team fought them to a standstill except for a flurry of Coyote scores in the second period.

The Owls played a hard ball game but, while holding their own against the powerful AAA club's ground assault, simply could not solve the aerial deliveries of QB Steve Suttle. It was his pin-point passing and confident ballhandling in the second stanza that sparked the Coyotes and eventually sentenced the Owls to taste defeat at the hands of their traditional rival. Suttle passed for the initial TD on a 46 yarder, set up the second tally with another long toss, and led the Coyotes to their final marker while running for 47 of the required 88 yards.

Meanwhile a sputtering Owl offense never could assemble a sustained drive and its only real threat came late in the ball game as they reached the visitors 22 only to be held on downs while a desperation passing attack fell short.

Once more Co-Captain Bill Potasch led the Owl ground game. The little Owl workhorse totaled 97 yards in 19 carries in addition to 24 yards via three air receptions. Sidney Mercer, with 35 for 13 tries and Bobby Ward with 23 for 10 rounded out the rushing attack and End Thomas Shulte gathered two aerials for 23 yards. QB Johnny Meyer completed five of ten passes for 47 yards to lead the air assault.

The home defense, seemingly improving with each weekly performance showed up in good style with just about every boy playing a fine game. Outstanding in the solo-tackles department were Ward with 12, middle linebacker George Brucks with 10, and Co-Captain Gary Schweers with 9 respectively. In another defensive phase Shulte, taking over the kicking chores, placed some nice boots.

FLORESVILLE

Friday night the Owls travel to Floresville to encounter the District 27-AA Floresville Tigers in an effort to get back in the winning groove. The opponents, though getting trounced by a strong Cuero club 54-0 in last weeks action, cannot be discounted lightly as they own a victory over a strong AAA Seguin team and clouted Falls City handily. The Tigers pride is Chris Kuykendall, an explosive 159-pound Negro back, and is a dangerous long ball threat once he gets into the secondary. The "big" man in a good Tiger line is 256-pound LT A. Fuller. Tommy Koch has a good record in the PAT department.

HOOTS

Thursday night Pearsall's "B" team handed the Hoots their first '57 defeat, 19-13. Though the "little Owls" led 13-0 going into the final session, they could not put out a strong opponent rally, and now own a 1 and 1 record. Gonzales once more led the Hoot scoring parade as he tallied on both counts.

Creatures of the outdoors are like people. Basically they need only two things to thrive: food and cover.

Of course, man yearns for more than the bare necessities -- he plays around with his automobiles, cameras, books, stamps and whatnot. The game and fish have not thus fancied up their lives.

If they have plenty to eat and a good place to hide from their enemies, they get along. Take the recent whitewing season for example.

The whitewing dove was a disappearing bird until the Game and Fish Commission took over. The Commission's first action was to close the season on these birds. Then a tract of about 200 acres of brushland was acquired, assuring cover for the whitewings. Result is that these doves have come back in such numbers that, during the past open season, whitewing shooting in South Texas was described as a "hunter's paradise."

Just now the Game Commission people would like to buy some more brushland acreage, to give the whitewings an additional guarantee that farmers will not plow up the whole of South Texas and leave doves without a bush to nest in.

If that can be done, and if we can get enough rain to provide forage for the birds, there is likely to be good whitewing shooting from here on out.

MORNING DOVES, TOO

Still talking about food and cover -- consider mourning doves. This year, the dove shooting has been good, generally, because spring rains provided the grass and brush that birds look to for food and hiding places.

Incidentally, dove hunting begins in the South Zone, October 1, and your chances are very good, provided there is enough cool weather to prompt the birds to migrate in that direction.

Long familiar is the regulation that shotguns must be plugged to hold not more than three shells, but violators of this rule are still being arrested frequently by wardens.

And -- one more reminder -- don't forget your new license.

Food and cover for deer and turkey have been exceptionally good this year. Grass is growing where there has been no grass in years.

Fresh water fish are prospering now because of a very favorable food and cover season. Spring rains washed food into the lakes and streams, and raised the water levels.

Banks went under water during flood time and gave the fish more spawning grounds, including a lot of wooded and brushy area. Result is a great spawning year for black bass, white bass, and crappie.

The little bass are almost keeper size now. Come February and March, they will be about 12 inches long and weigh about a pound.

There is no problem about overpopulation, because the fisherman will reduce the number of bass when this bumper crop of fish start taking lures early next year.

One old-timer of my acquaintance says next year should produce better fishing than any time since pioneer days.

Devine took a quick lead by scoring early in the first quarter. Sollock made the touchdown with Van Damme scoring the extra point. The highlight of the game came in the second quarter when Ridgway returned a Wildcat punt 65 yards. The score was nullified by a clipping penalty. At the half the score was Devine 7, Carrizo Springs 0.

The third quarter saw both teams score. Tschirhart climaxed a long drive by crossing the goal line to add 6 points to the Devine score. The extra point attempt failed. Allen scored for the Wildcats. Carrizo made their extra point good.

Both teams jockeyed back and forth in the final quarter. Devine was in a position to score when the clock ran out.

COMETS TAME TIGERS, 26-7

By Gerald W. Kempf

CASTROVILLE — The St. Louis Comets, led by the brilliant running of Tailback Royce Groff, rolled over the Bracketville Tigers 26-7 in a hard-fought battle at Castro Field Saturday night.

Fumbleitis plagued the Comets throughout the game as the St. Louis lads lost the pignskin five times on fumbles. Undoubtedly the margin of victory for the Comets would have been wider if the fumbles had not occurred, for three of the five lost fumbles interrupted definite Comet scoring threats. Once the ball went over to the Tigers on a fumble on the Tiger two yard line. Some of the credit, however, must be given to the Tiger defense, who, on many occasions rocked the Comet backs with jarring tackles, shaking the ball loose.

Groff opened the scoring for the Comets after a scoreless first quarter. The speedy Comet tailback climaxed a 76 yard drive as he circled right end 13 yards, behind nice blocking, for the score two minutes deep in the second period. Arthur Espino split the uprights with his extra point kick but a Comet 15 yard penalty nullified the play. In second try, Espino's kick was wide and the Comets let 6-0.

Midway in the second quarter the Comets went to work again. After taking over on downs on their own 18 yard line, the Comets picked up a first down to the 34 yard line setting the stage for Groff once more. Groff circled left end and scampered 66 yards down the sideline, eluding tackler after tackler, for the touchdown. Espino's extra point kick was good giving the Comets a 13-0 lead.

But Bracketville was not to be denied. The Tigers were forced to punt, but a jarring tackle on the runback spelled trouble for the Comets. The slippery pignskin rolled free at the 46 yard line and the last man off the pile was a golden-jerseyed Tiger. After Bracketville picked up a first down to the 30 yard line a 15 yard Comet penalty moved the ball to the 15. Three plays later Right Halfback Cotton Cummins hit the center of the line and scored from 8 yards out. Quarterback Fred Ferrick swept left end to pick up the extra point and the halftime score stood 13-7 in favor of the Comets.

Following the entertaining half-time activities, the Comets came out determined to lengthen their lead. St. Louis quickly drove down to the Tiger eight yard line for a first down and goal to go, but another 15 yard penalty moved the pignskin back to the 23. Four plays later, Bracketville took over on downs on the two yard line. The Tigers then started to roll. They moved the ball all the way to the Comet 35 yard line before Comet defensive end Vincent Haby pounced on a Tiger fumble at that point. Groff and Fullback Bobby Tschirhart ate up big yardage and soon the ball rested on the Tiger ten yard line. Quarterback Carl Mangold then ripped up the middle to pick up the TD. Espino's extra point kick was wide and the score stood 19-7.

St. Louis picked up their final score late in the fourth period. The Comets held for downs on their 30 yard line and quickly began to move. Groff, Tschirhart and Mangold carried for first downs to the Tiger 21 yard line. From that point Tschirhart skirted left end, behind beautiful blocking, for the touchdown. This time Espino's extra point kick was good and minutes later the game ended with the Comets winning their third straight, 26-7.

Offensively, Groff was the big noise all the way for the Comets. He personally picked up 9 first downs, 225 yards rushing on 17 carries for a 13 average, and scored two of the Comets touchdowns. Groff has now scored in 23 consecutive ball games for the Comets.

Had it not been for Groff's great running, the five lost fumbles and the three 15 yard penalties against the Comets could have meant trouble. In a tight, low scoring game, fumbles and penalties such as these could easily mean the difference between a victory and a defeat.

Defensively, the Comets were not as sharp as they were against last week's opponent. However, credit must be given to a fighting Bracketville eleven, whose backfield was fast and slippery. End Jerry Holzhaus and Linebacker Jimmy "Buck" Jungman shone the brightest when the Tigers had the ball.

Next Saturday night, October 5, the Comets will journey to Fredericksburg to meet the St. Mary's Indians in a Southwest Academic League game. This will be the first conference game for the Comets this year. St. Louis has led the league for the past two years. St. Mary's is expected to give the defending champs a tough battle all the way.

Bracketville Scoring: Touchdown, Cummins (8 yd. plunge) P.A.T. Ferrick (1 run).
St. Louis Scoring: Touchdowns, Groff 2 (18 yd run, 66 yd run), Tschirhart (32 yd run), Mangold (10 yd run). Conversions, Espino 2.

Castro Wildcats Lead LaVernia

The Castroville Wildcats spun into the win column last Friday night at the expense of LaVernia. The Wildcats took the opening kickoff and drove down field but were stopped on the LaVernia 20 yard line by a penalty. The big gain in this drive was a 20 yard pass from Ray Griggs to Melvin Poeck.

The Wildcats held LaVernia on fourth down. Tommy Fletcher gathered in a punt by Donald Schroeder, and raced behind the blocking of Melvin Poeck and Mariano Garza for 50 yards and the first score.

Sam Aguirre made the second score in the second quarter on a 20 yard scamper in which he shook off a tackler at the 5. The 3rd score came in the 4th period when Melvin Poeck on a keeper raced untouched around left end for 5 yards. Right-halfback Tommy Fletcher set up the score with a 50 yard run in which he broke away from 2 would be tacklers on the 20 yard line.

With two minutes left, Sam Aguirre circled end for 30 yards and the final Wildcat score. The Wildcats also showed strong defense as LaVernia did not make a first down until the 3rd quarter.

Defensive stalwarts for Castroville were Tony Vargas, in the backfield and Braulio Lascano. Desi Raygoaa, Mariano Garza, and Paul Haass, in the line.

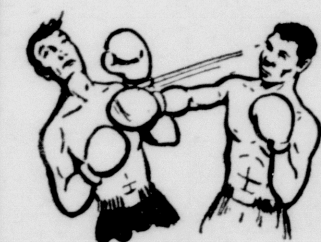

The Wildcats starters consist of 2 seniors, 4 juniors, 1 sophomore, and 4 freshmen. Coach Hood and his team meet LaCoste at Castroville this week.
